Hamidreza Danaei

Objective

Recent medical graduate with a strong academic record and diverse research experience in neurology and radiology-related topics. Eager to contribute to ongoing research projects in radiology and imaging science through collaboration with academic and clinical radiologists.

Education

• Doctor of Medicine (M.D.)

Isfahan University of Medical Sciences — 2017-2024

- Ranked Top 3 in university entrance
- Top 2.5% in National Pre-Internship Exam
- Ranked 600th among 600,000 in Iranian National University Entrance Exam

Research Experience & Publications

Published:

Anti-Tr/DNER Antibody-Associated Ataxia in a Pediatric Hodgkin Lymphoma Survivor: Successful Treatment With Plasmapheresis and IVIG (Pediatric Blood and Cancer Journal)

- Under Review:
- Chronic Foreign Body Reaction After EVD Placement Mimicking a Cerebellar Tumor: A
 Diagnostic Challenge (Operative Neurosurgery)
- Tumefactive Demyelination Distant from Targeted Field as a Rare Neurological Complication Following Radiotherapy: A Case Report (BMC Neurology)
- Thesis:

Influence of Hypothyroidism on Lower Urinary Tract Symptoms in Diabetic Women

• Work in Progress:

Investigating the Incidence of Demyelinating Lesions in Patients Receiving Radiotherapy

Skills

Research design and clinical data analysis

- Statistical software: SPSS
- Microsoft Office Suite (Word, Excel, PowerPoint)
- Strong written and verbal communication
- Excellent time management and collaboration

Languages

- Persian (native)
- English (professional proficiency)